Brussels, 16 November 2015

The organisations-members of the European Council of the Liberal Professions, gathered in General Assembly in Brussels the 16th of November 2015, in the aftermath of the barbaric massacre of dozens of innocent civilians in the city of Paris by the terrorist group "Islamic State" would like to:

- 1) Express their solidarity with and present their most sincere condolences to, the families and friends of those who perished and the people and the democratically constituted authorities of France in general.
- 2) Present warm wishes for a speedy recovery to those wounded and assure them that the professionals of health who stand currently by their bedsides are doing everything in their power to heal as quickly as possible the visible and invisible damages caused by the criminals
- 3) Solemnly declare that the professionals they bring together are firmly determined to continue working for the strengthening of the legitimate institutions of the Democracy and for the continuity of the State of Law in their respective countries and in the whole Europe. The coward acts of blind violence perpetrated by the terrorists are only confirming us in this resolution and motivate us to work ever more for the victory of the Values of our European Democracies!

For the organization members of CEPLIS,

Rudolf Kolbe
President
